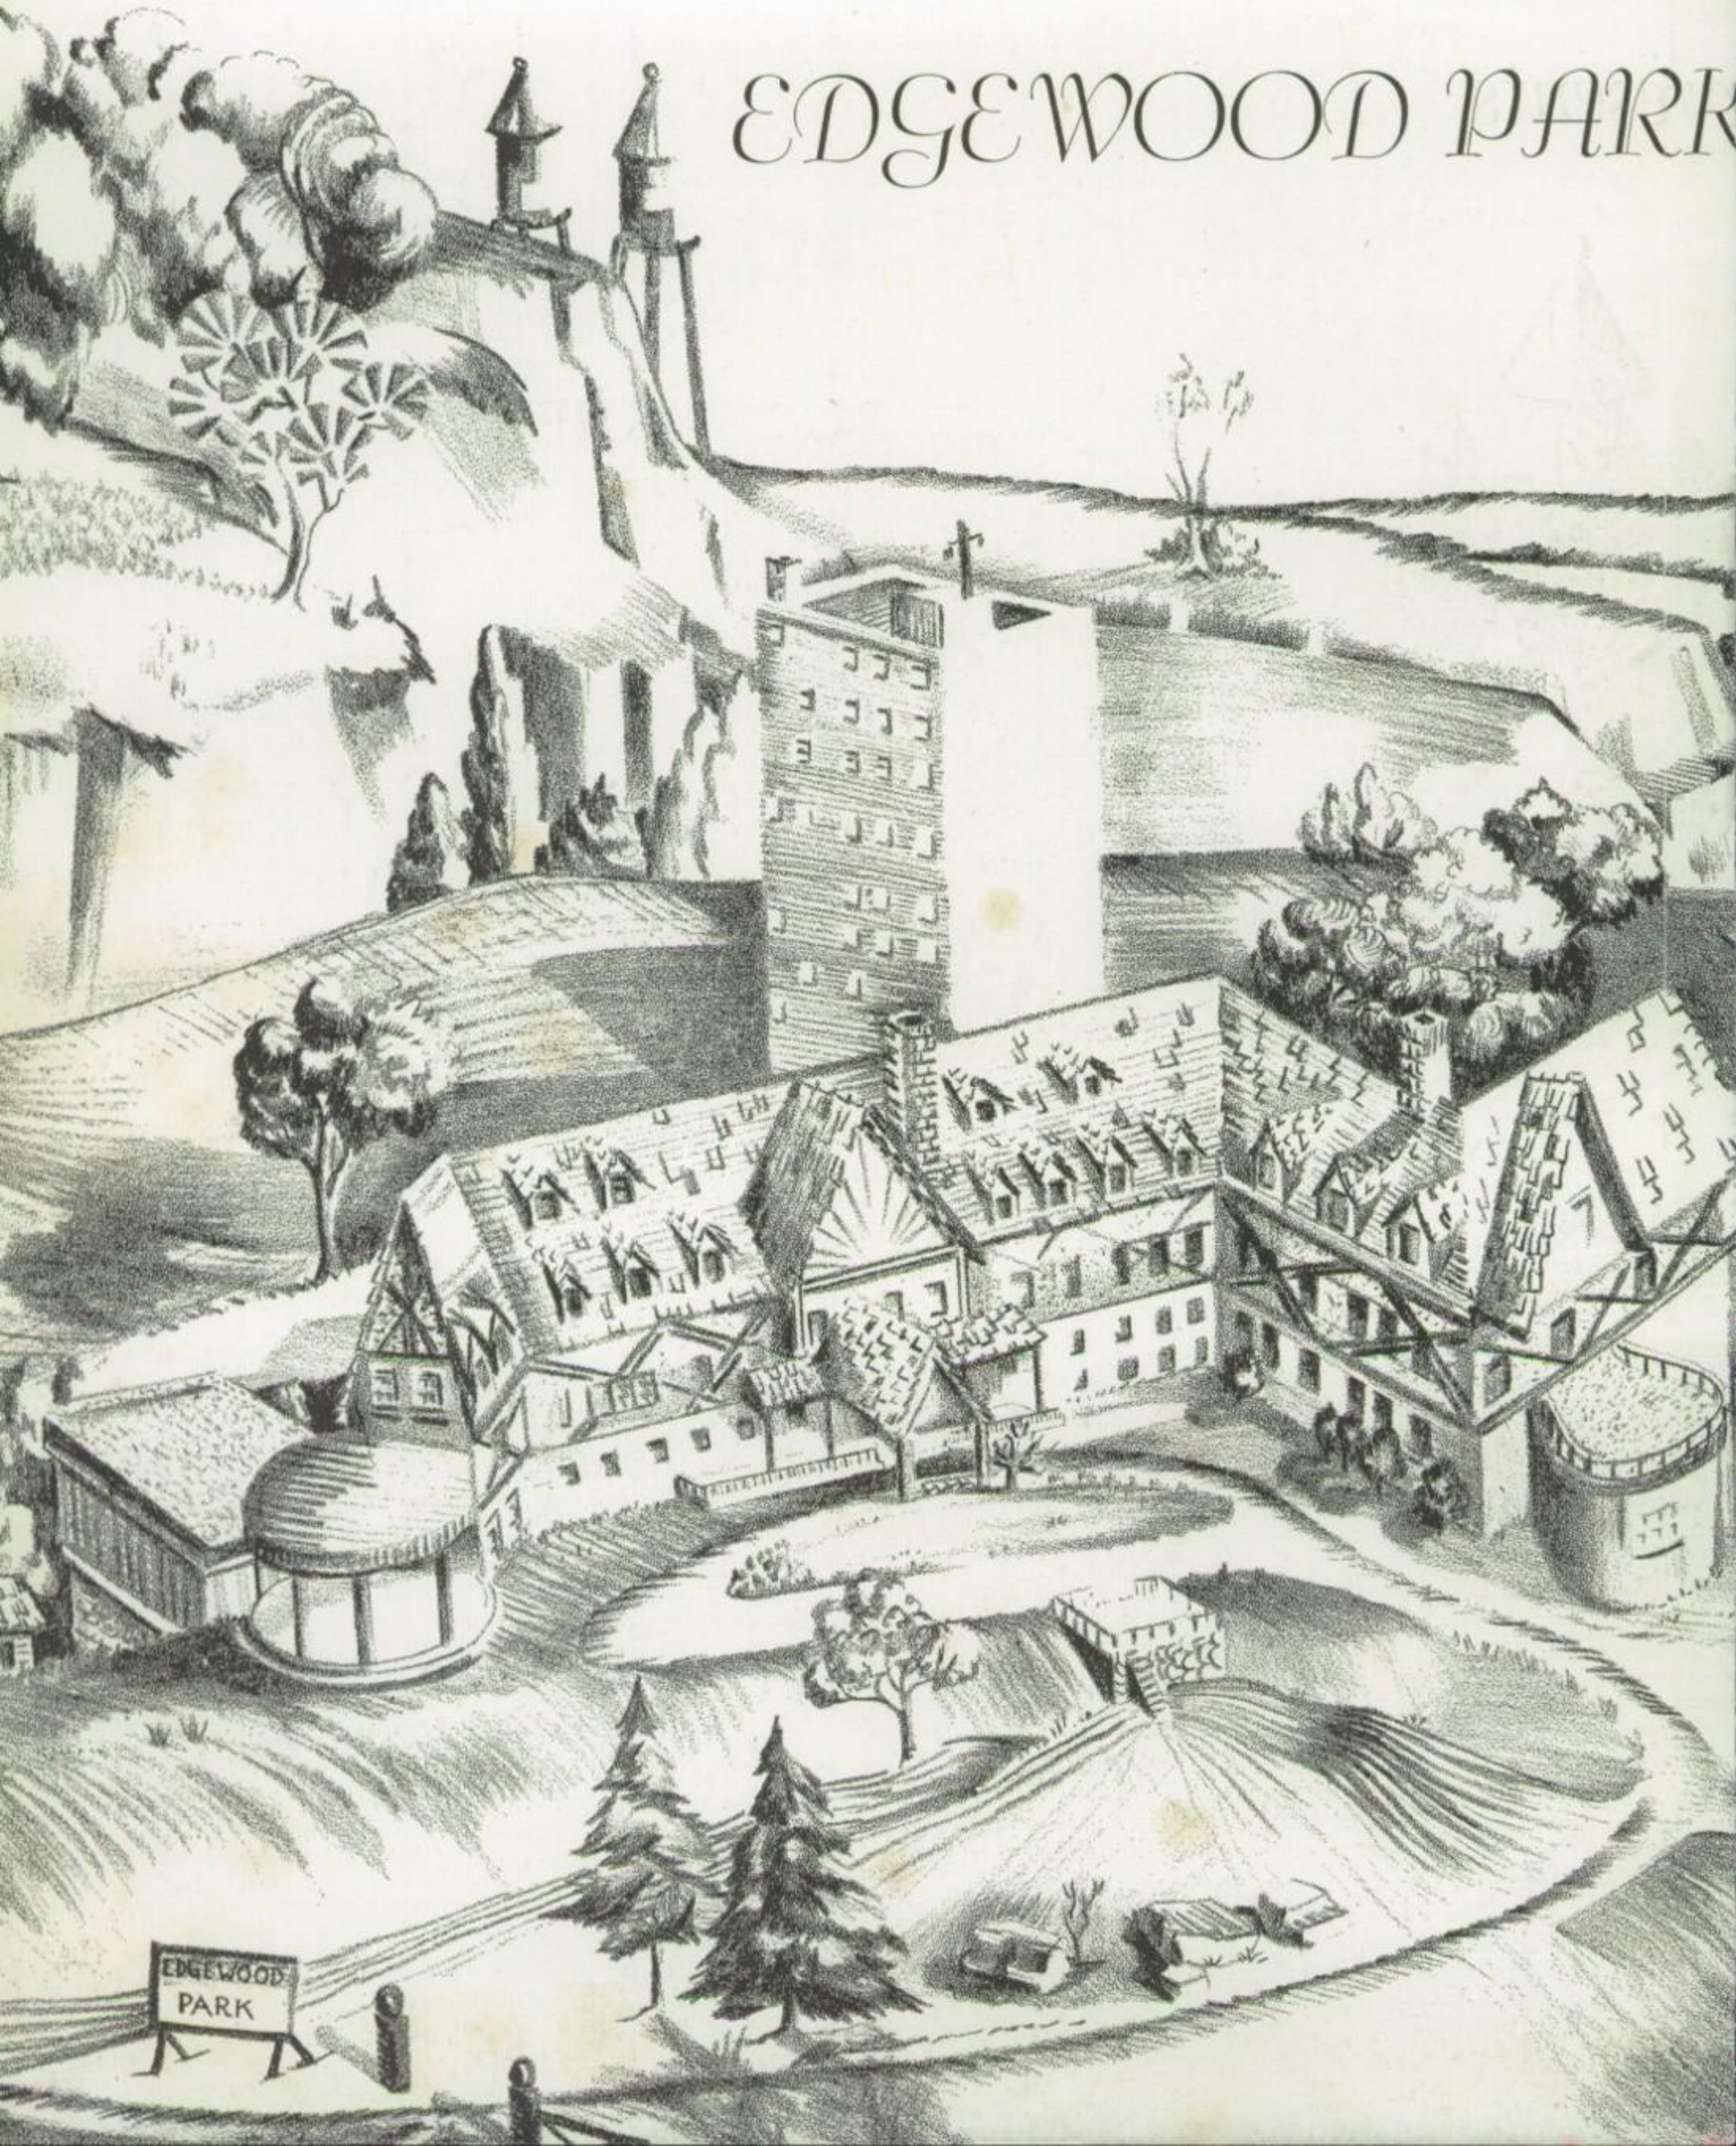
EDGEWOOD PARK

EDGEWOOD PARK

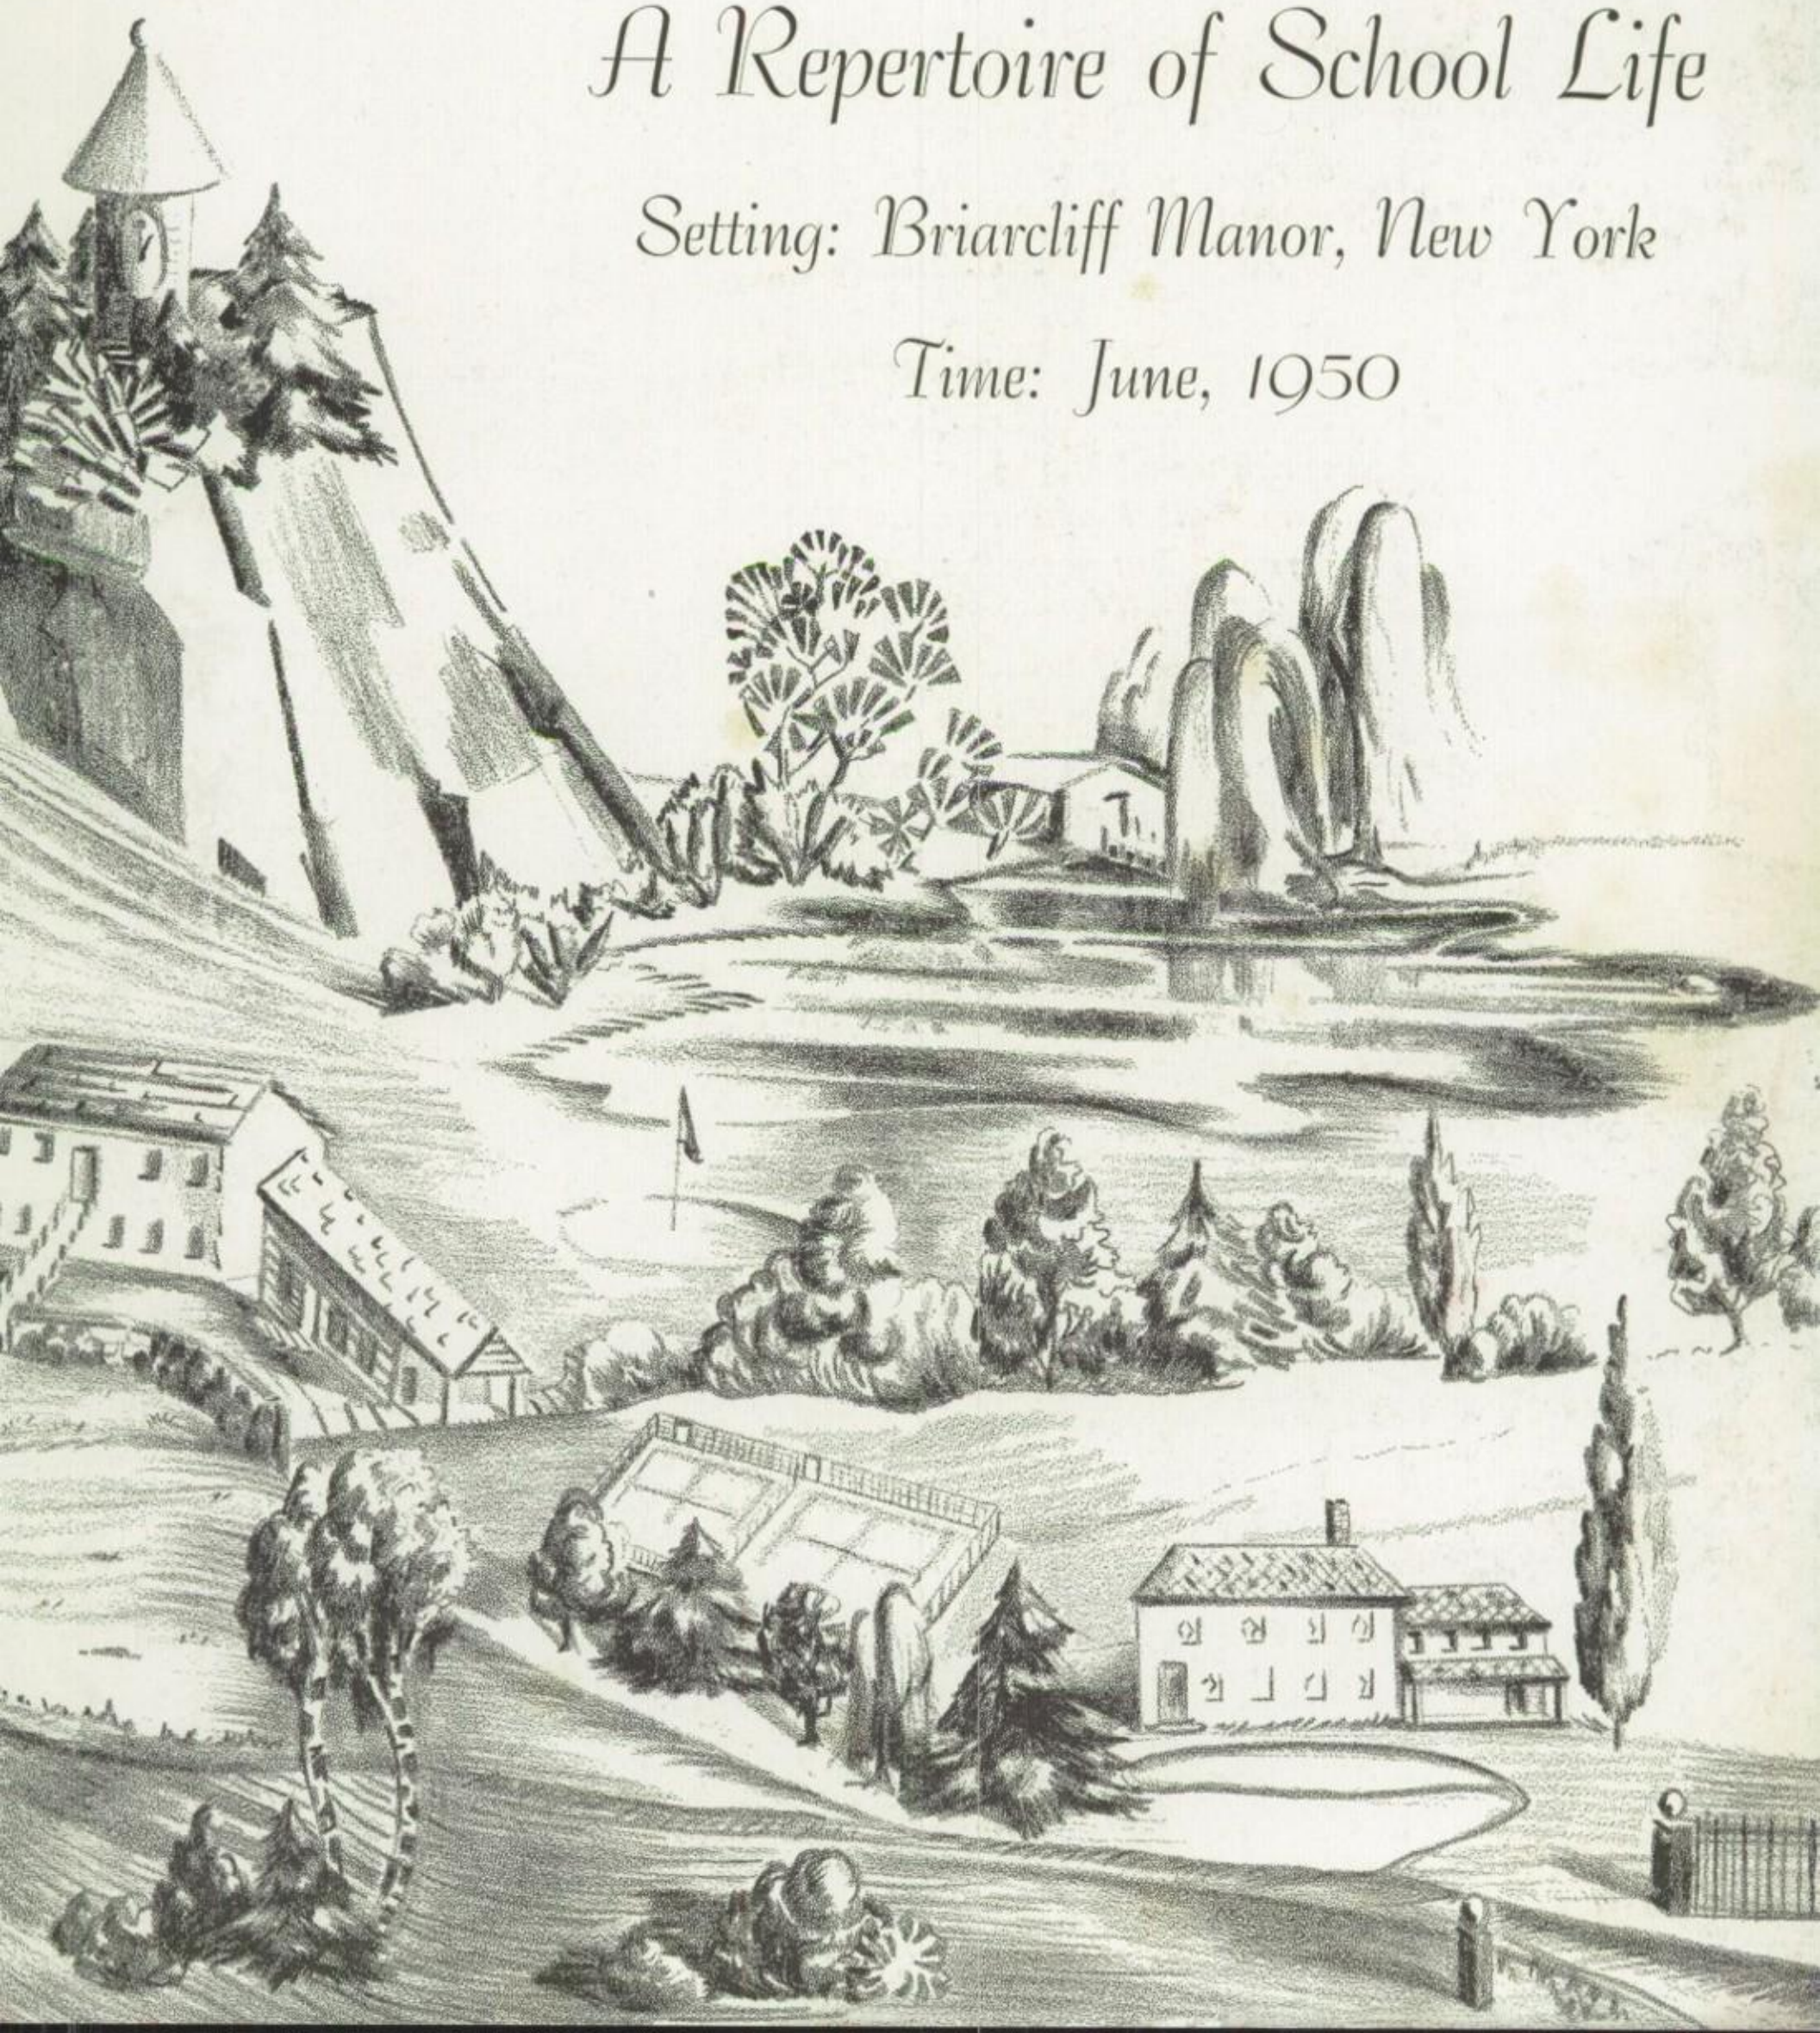


presents "The SKETCH BOOK"

A Repertoire of School Life

Setting: Briarcliff Manor, New York

Time: June, 1950



THE CURTAIN is down after the last Act of our school year here at Edgewood. Every scene was a memorable one which we will often recall with much pleasure; but now we step forward to assume new roles, thrill to new experiences, and start a new life.

This SKETCH BOOK presents a "PlayBill" program of our dramatic year. 1950 at Edgewood was like a play in which we all had an important part, taking care that our performance contributed to the success of everyone concerned. But now we are on our own, we have no scripts to follow, and our critics will be the world itself.

We leave more than our school and friends; we leave the glorious sunsets on the Hudson, a beautiful campus with its hills and trees and lovely walks; things we have had about us every day and are now a part of us. We will miss the sound of the boat horns on the river and the beacon in the distance keeping its nightly vigil.

Never will we forget the contributions Edgewood has made to us as individuals, as we pass through the stone gates of our campus, seeking new horizons and new accomplishments.

WE, THE Classes of 1950, gratefully dedicate our SKETCH BOOK to the entire faculty of Edgewood Park. We sincerely appreciate their patience and unselfish efforts and thank them for the many helps that they have given us while we studied here.

Our teachers have been our guides through many fascinating fields of education. We have learned to paint, to assist in medicine, to become fine homemakers, to design and sew our own clothing, to sing, to type, and to teach children. Some of us have learned the value of our books and have been inspired to go on learning and working toward further goals.

As a result of the tireless efforts and earnest understanding of our teachers and advisors, we now stand on the threshold of a new life, taking with us knowledge and experience that will serve us in our future.

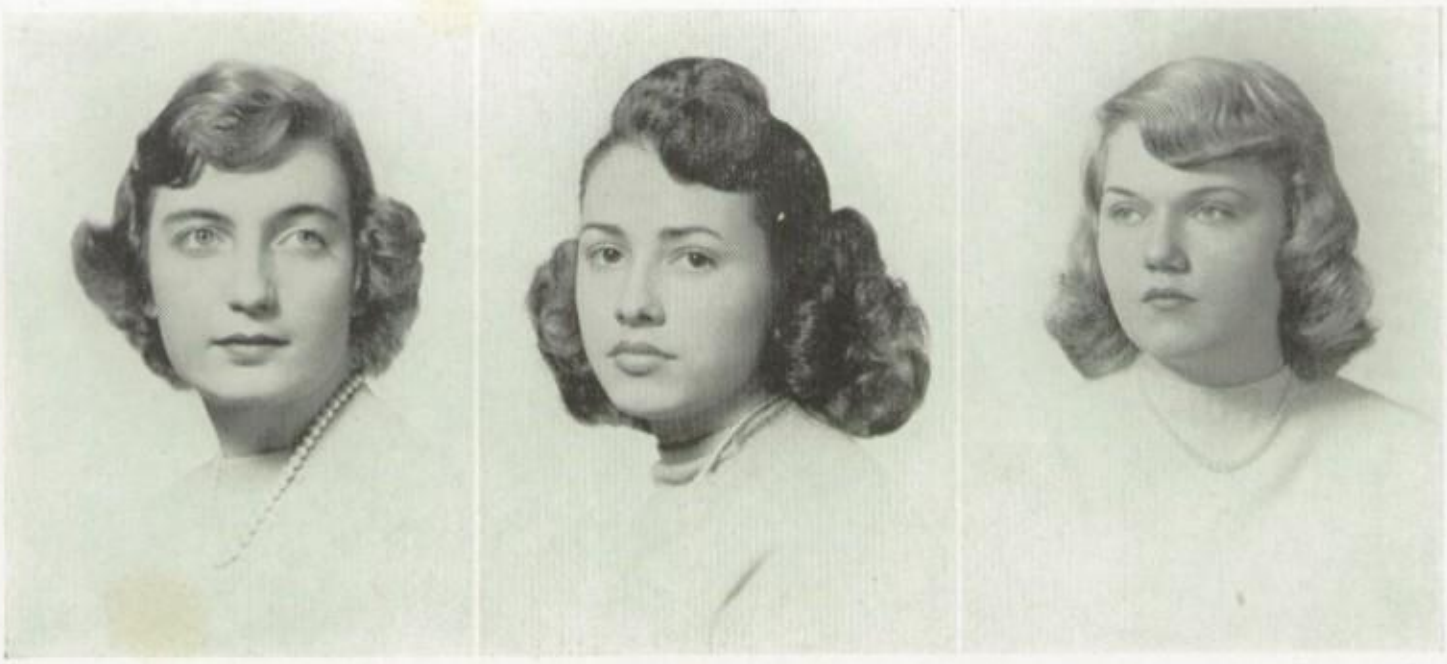
College Preparatory



Joan Lincoln Albelli

Mamaroneck, New York

Dramatics II; Boot and Spur II; International Relations II.

Where is she? Always on the go . . . doing her algebra, trying the lindy hop, or eating a Baby Ruth . . . "My kingdom for a horse," preferably a five-gaited one . . . Joanie relishes ice skating, sleigh rides, black taffeta dresses, "Perhaps," and wind, not rain . . . you'll never find her sewing, eating liver, listening to the opera, or on a roller coaster.

Emilia Arosemena

Panama City, Panama

Spanish Club II; International Relations II.

Little Emilia, lively and changeable . . . wants, of all things, to be the first woman President of Panama . . . a lover of soft chocolates, the color black, all dogs—has one of her own . . . a passion for sleep, but not for beef stew . . . executes her native dances to perfection with that Latin tempo!

June Beach

Scarsdale, New York

International Relations II.

June is fond of the South, spring, football games and tailored clothes, blue-eyed blondes . . . "My Future Just Passed" . . . can't stand soap operas, loves to gad about the building . . . has a knack for drawing.

Nancy Anne Burns

Rochester, New York

SKETCH BOOK Staff II; French Club I; Fire Proctor II; Dramatics I, II; Lens and Shutter I, Treasurer II; International Relations I, II.

Nancy . . . pretty, blonde, charming . . . fond of football weekends, California . . . black orchid or one gardenia, that Russian dish, "White Shoulders" . . . a certain satin dress, moonlight on the snow, full piggy banks, complete homework, "Egbert," her stuffed animal . . . can't stand buttons . . . wants to be a football center just once.

Anne-Neila Cushman

Providence, Rhode Island

SKETCH BOOK Assistant Editor II; Athletic Association II; Secretary-Treasurer of French Club II; International Relations II.

Pert and capable . . . loves "Dancing in the Dark" by Morton Gould, single red camellia, Strauss waltzes, Mexican zatoni, mid-western hospitality, and a red cocker spaniel named "Corky" . . . adores red-headed little boys, the "Starlight Roof Waltz," and thrills to the music of Cole Porter.

Stefanie Dorothy Drha

Huntington, Long Island, New York

International Relations I, II; Home Economics I; Golf Varsity II; Lens and Shutter II; French Club II.

Green eyes and "Mexicali Rose" are her particular favorites . . . others are munching on raw onions and sour pickles, Wednesday night phone calls, sleep, skiing and winter . . . "Why must we get up in the morning?"

Carol Fels

Kansas City, Missouri

International Relations II.

Tiny Carol, a natural peacemaker . . . ambition is to grow . . . fancies picnics, "Again," long distance phone calls, natural people . . . has unusually soft hands and an ability to meet situations gracefully . . . knits in spare time, preferably in blue.

Nancy Ferber

Hasbrouck Heights, New Jersey

International Relations I, II; Art Club I, II; Ski Club I, II; Lens and Shutter I, II.

Laughing blue eyes . . . amiable, enthusiastic Nancy . . . worries about her peculiarly diminishing food supply . . . pet likes are dancing with "Annie Poo," gardenias, sporty clothes . . . secret desire is to participate in the New York to Bermuda sailing race . . . photography is her hobby.

Maritza Guizado

Panama City, Panama

International Relations II; Spanish Club II.

Maritza . . . kind-looking, expressive face . . . always relaxed. Loves peppermint candies, formal dresses, babies, roses, swimming, rhumbas, stage shows. Has a habit of collecting snapshots . . . Loves to dream about going to Africa, but hates the seven o'clock bell!

Anne Harvey

Kirby, Ohio

International Relations II; Spanish II.

Anne can sleep anytime during the day, wishes she could acquire a nickname . . . doesn't like to study; instead she looks forward to wonderful summers on the "Wyandotte" . . . favors T-bone steaks and French fries . . . she couldn't do without her grey flannel skirt and her mail.

Donna Louise Jennings

Greens Farm, Connecticut

Tennis Varsity I, II; Athletic Association I, II; Athletic Council II; Basketball Varsity I.

Salt water, fog, and the wind all are so wonderful . . . Donna's penchants are for Nantucket summers, spur of the moment things, grey flannels and heavy white sweaters . . . loves "Somewhere Over the Rainbow" and collecting collegiate hats.

Sally Joyner

Yonkers, New York

Dramatics II; International Relations II.

Dark-eyed Sally . . . dream-like moods . . . calm . . . loves the fresh smell of woods after rain, all music except jazz, New York City lit up, chocolate ice-cream, Whitman's poems, white, not pink, all animals, farm life, but never baby talk!

Carole Faye Katz

Longmeadow, Massachusetts

Athletic Association II; International Relations II; French Club I; Spanish Club I.

Carole . . . vivacious, quick-witted . . . is agreeable to stuffed animals, Billy Eckstine, "I Only Have Eyes for You," rustling palm trees, moonlight on the ocean, fried pork strips, Somerset Maugham, Ravel's "Bolero" . . . hates empty mailboxes . . . secretly desires to be a soda jerk.

Marcia Louise Kitzmiller

Reading, Pennsylvania

Internaitonal Relations I, II; Lens and Shutter II; Spanish Club II; Ski Club I; Junior Class Vice-President.

"A hand of bridge, anyone?" . . . black coffee, onion soup and lamb chops—delicious food . . . Marcia leans toward semi-classical music, driving royal blue cars, traveling, and weekends . . . "Liver? never!" or "Must we go to bed?"

Rosalie LaScala

Pelham Manor, New York

Glee Club I, II; Lens and Shutter II; International Relations I, II; Boot and Spur I.

Tall and willowy, Lee loves Tabu, rhumbas, sambas, and horses . . . she couldn't do without her suite-mate, long rides in a black convertible, or going to the seashore . . . dislikes intensely—sauerkraut, last minute dates, and the morning bell, but not pickled herring and sour cream.

Barbara Wood Libby

Stoughton, Massachusetts

International Relations II.

Lib . . . expressive green eyes, clever thinker, lingering smile . . . highly regards "Army Blue," driving in her green Oldsmobile convertible, the G.A. Club in New York . . . is a terrific ice-skater . . . look out, bridge players who bid without honor count!

Joan Linck

Montclair, New Jersey

Senior Class President; Basbetball Varsity I, II; Life-Saving Patrol II; Treasurer of International Relations II.

Toots . . . winning smile, dependability, understanding nature . . . should attain her goal as a nurse . . . hates to be kept waiting . . . constantly planning weekends . . . attracted to Tony Martin, driving a car, hayrides, football games, New Years' parties.

Lucille G. Lowy

Port Chester, New York

International Relations I, II; Dramatics I, II; French Club I, Vice-President II; Latin Club Secretary I; Boot and Spur II; Athletic Association I, II; Basketball Varsity I; Fire Proctor II; Daisy Chain.

Lu favors a slow fox-trot, red coats, pink camellias, Broadway shows, French, a smorgasbord . . . "Is excess homework really necessary?" . . . psychiatry holds a fascination for her . . . her dark eyes will leave a lasting impression.

Betty Keith Luke

Wilmington, Delaware

International Relations I, Vice-President II; Vice-President of Senior Class; Athletic Association II; Home Economics Club Secretary II; Treasurer of Junior Class.

B.K. dislikes alarm clocks, winter, the snow and ice . . . she likes boating on Chesapeake Bay, "Show Boat," summer, tennis, red roses, popular music, spaghetti dinners at Pete's on Friday nights . . . most important of all, "In My Merry Oldsmobile."

Jane Marx

Birmingham, Alabama

Athletic Association II; French Club II; Lens and Shutter II; International Relations II.

"I'll never have these socks ready," or "Did you ever?" . . . Janie eats anything and everything, delights in tennis, ping pong, bridge, or dancing . . . adores the South! . . . would love to be a medical assistant.

Jocelyn Mercier

Trumbull, Connecticut

Boot and Spur I, President II; International Relations I, II; Latin I; Dramatics I, II; Athletic Association I, II; Basketball Varsity I; Daisy Chain.

Fox-hunting, English tweeds, black velvet, and college weekends . . . Jocy hates to write thank-you notes, but would love to be a career woman . . . "Breakfast? I'd rather sleep!" . . . always on the go is this "Wonderful Wizard of Oz," who is equally at home with a good book or a horse—last year she won the Edgewood Park Riding Award.

Mary Elizabeth Murray

Springville, New York

Boot and Spur II; Ski Club II; Golf Varsity II; International Relations II.

Mary, cheerful and poised, wants a modeling job in Buffalo . . . her favorites are golfing and riding, noisy parties, dancing, semi-classical music . . . is forever letter writing . . . pet dislike is the noise of people getting up an hour before she does . . . very graceful hands.

Claire Bradford Pierce

Milford, Connecticut

Elmira Key; International Relations I, II; Dramatics I, II; French Club II; Spanish Club I.

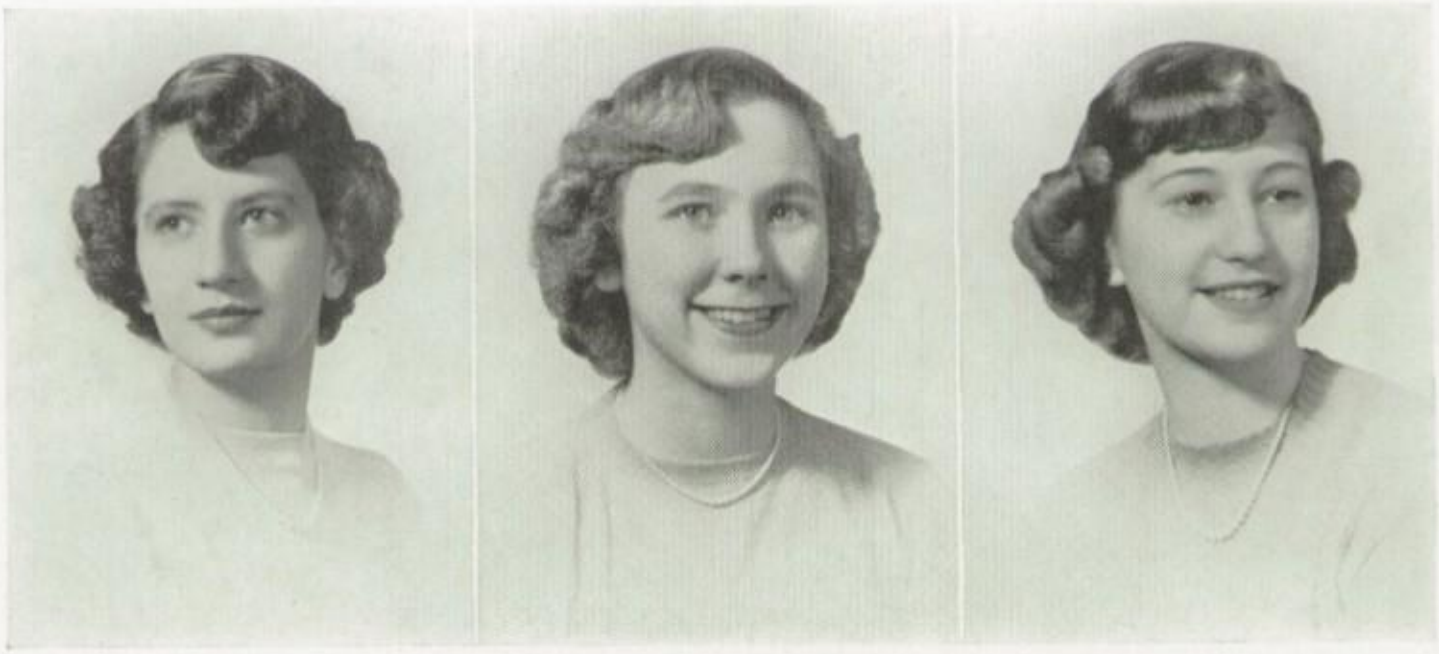
For Claire? the wanderlust, snowfalls, Rimsky Korsakov, brunettes, English movies, roast duckling, the waltz and the polka . . . "You're Breaking My Heart" . . . would love independence above all . . . "Cabbage? I detest it!"

E. Marie Prell

Houston, Texas

Senior Class Secretary; French Club II; Athletic Association II.

Cissy can do the Charleston! . . . she loves Dorothy Shay, the Park Avenue Hillbilly, coffee and Texas, outstanding clothes, Irish people, bridge, Southern hospitality . . . "Whoever reads Little Orphan Annie?" . . . thinks men in the kitchen and Canasta are both stupid.



Beatriz H. Pru

Caracas, Venezuela

International Relations I, II; Spanish Club I, II.

Gardenias, "Stardust," Italian food, Rex Harrison, the beach and hot weather, listening to semi-classical music—all fascinate Bea . . . has a fear of open doors and of bells . . . would love to have a million dollars of her own.

Janet Dolores Raymond

Allentown, Pennsylvania

Athletic Association I, II; International Relations I, II; Boot and Spur I, II.

Jan is a great one for horseback riding, house parties, spring weather, spaghetti and meat balls . . . "Why Was I Born?" . . . loves listening to Tony Martin, wearing extremely well-tailored clothes . . . secret ambition for Wellesley or Vassar.

Iris Sheila Rosenblatt

Lawrence, Long Island, New York

International Relations II; Spanish Club II; Dramatics II.

Ivy loves Vaughn Monroe's throaty voice, "How Deep is the Ocean," group singing, anything red—including strawberry short-cake . . . hates deciding what to wear . . . has lots of school spirit . . . admires true friends.

June Rose Ross

Bronxville, New York

Boot and Spur I, II; Golf Varsity II; International Relations II; Lens and Shutter I; Sketch Book Staff II.

Playing the piano, Mel Torme, anything Western, good plays, wine red, American Beauty roses—June Rose loves them all! . . . "Why have a big dog in a small apartment?" . . . "Travel? a wonderful thing!"

Electa Ruckert Salzmann

Huntington, Long Island, New York

"I'll have roast beef, rare" . . . other preferences are for navy blue, moonlight sails, barbecues, German shepherd dogs, a chance to cook on a rainy day . . . Lucky's ambition is to own a string of horses . . . "Monotony is a terrible thing."

Mary Louise Vredenburgh

New York, New York

International Relations II; Spanish Club II.

Lu believes knitting a practicable pastime and untidiness inexcusable . . . roast beef and apple pie, "South Pacific," white roses, sports clothes and dancing characterize Lu . . . perhaps Grinnell will make an excellent interior decorator out of her—who knows?

Barbara Ann York

Midland, Texas

International Relations I, II; Student Council I, II; Vice-President of Junior Class; Ski Club I, II; Spanish Club II; Art Club II; Daisy Chain.

Deer-hunting in Texas! . . . Zorki, in true Southern manner, loves loafing . . . adores any kind of food, skiing, and flying . . . she has claustrophobia . . . wants to be successful and has what it takes.

Frances York

Newburgh, New York

Athletic Association II; International Relations II; Senior Class Treasurer.

Frannie doesn't like the Sunday night bell after the weekend . . . "Baby-blue is so flattering," or "themes are the worst part of school" . . . she could eat peanut-butter continually, or steak medium-rare . . . dreams of gardenias and dancing on mild summer nights.

"Ladies of the Jury" STUDENT COUNCIL

Student government, under the supervision of a Student Council, has long had a part in the training of students since educational processes began.

Here at Edgewood Park, the aim of the Student Council is to create among the student body a feeling of the need of a loyal observance of all rules. This leads naturally to a spirit of close cooperation between the members of the student body and those of the administrative force. Only by such cooperation can the real value of a student government show itself, for its aim is to train for leadership, to teach self control and self reliance, and to bring out, in every student, the initiative which makes for independence of thought. This cooperation in thinking things through together leads to a fine standard of action among the entire student group.

The Student Council is elected by the entire student body. The officers of the 1949-1950 Student Council:

Joan Langlois, President
Marianne Allen, Vice-President
Dorcas Brown, Secretary Doris Kinney, Treasurer

"Shooting High" BASKETBALL

The varsity basketball teams of Edgewood Park played six games this season.

The first game was played at home with Briarcliff Junior College. It was exciting and close, both teams playing hard and well. The Junior College squad succeeded in making the one final basket they needed to win the game.

Succeeding games were held with Scarborough School, Scarborough, New York, and Rosemary Hall in Greenwich, Connecticut. These contests were equally tense and hard-fought.

Joan Ramsbottom, team captain and forward for Edgewood Park, scored 44 points during the season; Mildred Pfeifer was the highest scorer, with 53 points.

PROXOLOGY ON THE DISTINGUISHING FEATURES OF JUNIORS AND SENIORS

LORAINE McGLONE

The technical difference between a junior in high school and a senior in high school is approximately four credits. Usually a junior (in high school) is sixteen years old and a senior (in high school) is seventeen years old. The average layman may distinguish a senior (in high school) from a junior (in high school) by a few outstanding characteristics.

First, the senior. Each senior somehow or other gets the impression that she is not only the best-dressed individual in the world, but also the most important, most intelligent, and surely the most popular.

Secondly, a brief look at the junior, who is readily tagged in any crowd by her meek expression. The juniors are convinced that they are exactly what the almighty seniors aren't. When in a group with seniors, the poor juniors resemble the female species of Mr. Milquetoast. You see, the seniors handle the juniors in the same way two Great Danes tear apart a coveted bone.

Because of this cruel treatment, juniors are often nervous and irritable and are unable to sleep at night. And, of course, since they can't sleep at night, they must sleep in the morning. Very often teachers are not overly understanding when pupils sleep in the classroom. Why this is, the juniors don't fully understand. Perhaps the teachers are sleepy too--after having stayed up all night to correct five-hundred word themes--and want the juniors to keep them awake.

Although there is as yet no solution to the existing junior-senior situation, it has been predicted that somewhere around 1984 the juniors will stage a minor revolt. This will of course come to naught; for although the juniors have grown strong enough to have such an idea, the seniors have grown so in mentality as to perceive the idea of those in the lower intelligence bracket. This "perceiving" is carried on in torture chambers with the assistance of a top junior.

One mustn't get the idea, though, that the seniors have everything. Why, the juniors get three meals a day and sometimes can keep their dates, if the seniors don't want them. Finally, it is only fair to state that the juniors do have clothes, but the seniors like the juniors' clothes. Need more be said?

Backstage Glimpses

Beginning school in September meant the pleasant confusion of unpacking, finding our big or little sisters, and getting settled for the tasks ahead. We became acquainted with our roommate and suitemates, helping each other hang draperies and arrange furniture, while lending an interested ear to the events of last summer and the big week-end plans for future months.

Very soon books demanded attention as classes had begun (1) and we were on our way. Our get-acquainted picnic was rained out; nevertheless, that evening we enjoyed ourselves informally in the dining room (2). Members of Student Council acted as hostesses at our first Sunday afternoon tea (3). It seemed as though life was one class after another (4). We climbed Harmony Hill, pounded typewriters, washed dishes, daubed paint, crammed for tests (5); no complaints, because wonderful week-ends always rolled around (6). For some of us they meant movies, concerts, shopping trips to New York (7), or a big time on some college campus.

One of our most hilarious nights was that of the Athletic Association Halloween party. We had laughs (8)—the barker (9) drew us to the side-splitting side show (10). We bob-bed for apples and tried our luck at the wheel of fortune. Scares too—with Frankenstein stealing the show (11). Fall also meant the Harvest Moon Ball with its pumpkin and corn stalk decorations (12). How pretty it was to see the transformation from dungarees to the ballerina evening dresses. Thanksgiving was our next big event on the calendar and we welcomed it with a commemorative service in the lobby by the choir and student body.

When we came back from Thanksgiving vacation (13), winter tried in vain to give us snow. Concerts, recitals, radio shows and dramatic club plays perked us up, though, and helped balance out days of study. Soon the spirit in the air was Christmasy (14), and despite warm temperatures we greeted the season with our formal tea (15) and candlelight dinner. The faculty held open house for us in Harmony Hall (16) and we serenaded them with carols (17) just before going home (18, 19).

Those of us who prayed for snow rejoiced at the few flakes that lent atmosphere to the formal ball which featured our Snow Queen and her court (20). January also ushered in term exams and buried everyone in books (21); we did not come up for air and relax (22)—or so it seemed — much before our Valentine dance.

A plunge in the pool, a fast game of ping pong, basketball (23), dancing to the juke box (24), or just relaxing in the Dutch playing Canasta (25) balanced out our day, with bells punctuating our life and giving it schedule. The slightest bit of snow brought out our skiers (26, 27)—some to our ski slope, some to Lake Placid's — but still others were pining for an early spring.

A pioneer spirit emerged with the beginning of enthusiastic modern dance classes; they gave us an outlet for excess energy and sent us to bed exhausted (28). A new religious council periodically presided in chapel and gave us the feeling of self-guidance in our spiritual development.

We had a bit of fun watching the foreign language plays, and the pantomime conveyed the plot if we were lost in the dialogue. How lucky we felt if we were the winner at one of the cake raffles, but our prize never lasted long.

We welcomed spring as we needed its accompanying lightness and gaiety to bolster our winter-worn spirits. The displays put on by surrounding fashionable shops helped us plan our Easter wardrobes, and some of the girls, gifted enough to put their designs into form, presented a fashion show giving us their ideas on spring clothes.

Days and weeks passed quickly, and May brought our annual pageant with the Queen and her court. Commencement was our most impressive picture of the year. Graduation Day was our inspiration throughout the year, and with its arrival we have reached one goal.

Where do we run for food and chatter?
Where do we run to get fatter and fatter?
Where do we run when study bell rings
For cakes and coke and candy and things?
THE DUTCH!

Where do we air our pet peeves and gripes?
Where do we go when our roommate types?
Or we need a fourth—or a third for Canasta,
Or a place to spend the lunch hour siesta?
THE DUTCH!!
